WOMEN'S NEGLECT SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

"Restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling about it for the sake of other suffering women. For a long time I suffered untold agony with a female trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has been under her direction, and since her decease, has been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowing-up of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Arrest of Would-be Bridegroom

A telegram from Baltimore Thursday caused a Jersey City double wedding to be broken up yesterday and other complications.
Capt. J. C. Young was to have been married Thursday night to Miss Lauretta Fitzhenry, of Jersey City, after the wedding of her sister, Miss Emma E. Fitzhenry, had taken place earlier in the evening, but he was arrested instead on a charge of attempted bigamy. The charge was made against him by Daniel Fitzhenry, brother of the bride-to-be, who lives in Jersey City also.
Preparations had been made for the double wedding at the Fitzhenry home. The guests, flower girls, ushers and all were present when Miss Emma Fitzhenry was married to Stanley Walter Roulston.

When the time for the second wedding came the guests were surprised to find there was no bridegroom present. It was then announced by the family that a telegram had been received from Young that he had been delayed by train and would be unable to reach the house. On receipt of this news Miss Lauretta became ill. She is now under the care of a physician.

The real reason for the delay and the arrest of the man became known yesterday, when Samuel Fitzhenry told his sister that he had gone before Judge Blair and had a warrant sworn out for Young's arrest.

Young is now in the Hudson county jail. Daniel Fitzhenry charges that Young has a wife and four children residing near Baltimore. Fitzhenry said Young offered the excuse that he had sued his wife for divorce, and that a decree in his favor was overdue.

Fitzhenry says he received a telegram from Baltimore Thursday, warning him that Y. was married and saying that a registered letter would follow, with full details. Miss Fitzhenry refused to believe the story, and told Young about the telegram. Young indignantly denied that there was any truth in the statement.

When the registered letter arrived later in the day Fitzhenry hurried to his sister's home, but Young had gone. He followed Young to his boarding house, but missed him again. Then he went to the Erie station, where he found Young, and had him placed under arrest.

Grandson Attacks Byron's Name.

A dispatch from London says that one of the greatest literary sensations of recent years is likely to follow the revelation of the contents of a book written for private circulation by the Earl of Lovelace about his grandfather, Lord Byron. Lovelace's mother was Ada, Byron's only legitimate child, and the object of the earl is to vindicate his grandmother, the poet's wife, concerning whom the opinion has become stereotyped owing to the general trend of Byronian literature, that she caused Byron's exile and wrecked his career by her harsh, unsympathetic attitude.

Lord Lovelace's reply is the astounding disclosure that the allegation, made originally in 1870 by Harriet Beecher Stowe, of Byron's relations with his half-sister, Augusta, whom he only met when both were grown up and she was married, rested not on suspicion or malicious gossip, but upon a confession made to Lady Byron by Augusta herself, and that Lady Byron thereupon justifiably refused ever to see her husband again, but out of consideration for Augusta, to whom she ever afterward remained a devoted friend, she preserved inviolate their dreadful secret, bearing in heroic silence criticisms and misrepresentations which a word from her could instantly have dispelled.

The Earl of Lovelace is now 66 years old, a man of rather morose and eccentric disposition and evidently consumed by virulent animosity toward Lord Byron's memory.

Ordered Castigation.

"Madam, the sentence of the court is that you take your daughter home and give her a sound spanking, not in the metaphorical sense, but by an actual administration of manual castigation on old fashioned and traditional lines. The court also directs you to report here on the morning of January 22 as to whether or not the order of the court has been carried out."

Such was the order of Magistrate O'Reilly in New York, yesterday, to Mrs. Emily Buch. Mrs. Buch had her daughter Katie, who is 17 years old, and who has not been behaving in a manner becoming to a person of her years, brought before the magistrate, charged with having attempted suicide. Katie had been receiving the attentions of a young man against the wishes of her mother. On Wednesday afternoon she stood in the hall of the tenement talking with a lover after her mother had ordered her to send "that pestiferous young chap home and come in." Not following the admonitions of her mother, Katie had been dragged into the flat and the caller told to "Get out."
